Opportunities and Challenges

Opportunities

Favourable government policies
－＂Cyberpower＂，＂Internet＋＂

Rapid growth of information economy

－Optimization of information infrastructure facilities，expansion of information consumption

Vast digital services market

－Cloud computing，big data，Internet of Everything，etc．

Challenges

High penetration

－Market saturation，slow down in net add

Increasing pressure on tariff
－Voice and data tariff further decline

Mounting competition

－OTT，equipment／terminal vendors
－Strategic collaboration among operators

Edges and Capabilities

Network scale

Base stations＞2． 11

High－capacity，smart and efficient infrastructure network

Customer base

826 III mobile customers， ranked $1^{\text {st }}$ globally
$63 \%$ market share， maintained leading position

Customer service

Customer satisfaction

4G customer NPS No． 1

Near－term Strategy

Consolidate 4G leading edges

－Build premium network to elevate network capabilities
－Expedite customer migration to increase 4G penetration
－Accelerate VoLTE／RCS progress

Gain corporate customer market share

－Uplift market share of dedicated lines and IDC
－Expand the informatization applications for corporates and industries

Enhance wireline broadband speed \＆efficiency

－High－standard：Featuring high－bandwidth products
－High－quality：Branding with high quality services
－High－value：Emphasizing on investment and returns

Future Strategy：  Development Fueled by Connectivity

Horizontally expand connectivity scale

Boost
connectivity scale

One－billion scale connections among people

Ten－billion scale Internet of Everything
－Mobile，wireline，full connectivity
－Individuals，families， corporates
－Domestic，global

Vertically extend connectivity service

Optimize connectivity service

Smart platform connections
－IDC
－Cloud computing
－Big data

Tangible breakthrough in connectivity application

－Content and media

Strengthen connectivity application

Basic access and communication demand

Vertical market applications applications
－Digital terminals products
－Industry solutions
